

The Church has always venerated the divine Scriptures just as she venerates the body of the Lord [...]. Therefore, like the Christian religion itself, all the preaching of the Church must be nourished and regulated by Sacred Scripture.

Constitution of Vatican II on Divine Revelation Dei Verbum 21

The Synod called for a particular pastoral commitment to emphasizing the centrality of the word of God in the Church's life, and recommended a greater "biblical apostolate", not alongside other forms of pastoral work, but as "a means of letting the Bible inspire all pastoral work". This does not mean adding a meeting here or there in parishes or dioceses, but rather of examining the ordinary activities of Christian communities, in parishes, associations and movements, to see if they are truly concerned with fostering a personal encounter with Christ, who gives himself to us in his word.

Post-Synodal Apostolic Exhortation Verbum Domini 73

Spirit-filled evangelizers are evangelizers who pray and work. Mystical notions without a solid social and missionary outreach are of no help to evangelization, nor are dissertations or social or pastoral practices which lack a spirituality which can change hearts. These unilateral and incomplete proposals only reach a few groups and prove incapable of radiating beyond them because they curtail the Gospel. What is needed is the ability to cultivate an interior space which can give a Christian meaning to commitment and activity.

Apostolic Exhortation Evangelii Gaudium 262

"In the light of St. Arnold Janssen's vision for periodic religious missionary renewal, the Centro Ad Gentes aims to serve as a venue for ongoing formation for Divine Word Missionaries, members of the Arnoldus Family, their mission partners, and for lay people, religious, and clerics, as a Church called to share in the mission of Jesus, the Word Incarnate."

Dei Verbum

July 4 - August 31, 2023

Ad Gentes Center
Nemi (Rome), Italy

A Short Look on the Past of the Dei Verbum Course

The original idea for the Dei Verbum course was to start a biblical-formation program for those engaged in the Biblical apostolate. Fr. Ludger Feldkämper SVD was thinking of the shores of Lake Gennesaret in the Holy Land as the setting for the course, but for practical reasons it was changed to Italian Lake Nemi in whose vicinity the present Center “Ad Gentes” (CAG) is located.

The first Dei Verbum Biblical-Pastoral Course was launched on August 9, 1987, with Fr. John Füllenbach SVD its director. It lasted for 18 weeks and 28 participants took part in it. From the very beginning the course was opened for lay people, religious and priests from all over the world.

As a joint venture between the Society of the Divine Word (SVD) and the Catholic Biblical Federation (CBF), the course was organized – with few exceptions – every year until 2015. Altogether 27 batches prepared the total of 616 alumni, among them 147 SVDs, 131 diocesan priests, 237 other religious, and 101 lay people for work in the biblical apostolate in their respective life-situations.

In 2019 a reshaped edition has started with 24 participants from 16 countries of origin / work. Now it is to be organized again in 2021 focusing the invitation of Jesus addressed to the first disciples who came to him from John the Baptist and were enquiring more about him. “Come, and you will see” (John 1:39) resounds to disciples of today who would like to deepen their knowledge of the truth of the Incarnate Word and to learn the skills of its communication to others.

Present Objectives of the Dei Verbum Course

The inspiration of the specific objectives draws from the address of John Paul II given on April 7, 1986 to the CBF Executive Committee: “There is a great need for the solid formation of ministers of the Word of God, of all who teach and preach the Gospel of salvation... Ministers of God’s Word – priests, deacons, and other lay-people – should be immersed in the Scriptures through constant reading and diligent study, accompanied by prayer. As far as possible, they should be acquainted with the insights of modern biblical scholarship”.

The course thus looks to provide three main objectives:

- (1) accompany in attentive reading and diligent study of the Scripture in order to understand it properly;
- (2) enable interiorizing of the Word of God, through introduction into some selected themes, daily common liturgical biblical prayer, sharing and functions;
- (3) inspire to find suitable ways in communicating the Word of God in today’s world.

The focus is on developing practical skills and insights. Also the written project which is to be prepared by the participants toward the end of the course serves both as integration of knowledge, skills and insights gained during the course, and preparation for the service in their own local Church.
